EARLY ABELLS IN DERBYSHIRE, ENGLAND

Several branches of the Abell family lived in the County of Derby, England, in the sixteenth century. One branch lived in Creighton and Uttoxeter. The brothers John and Richard Abell, were the progenitors of this branch. Richard died before 1536. Henry Abell who died in 1540, was the earliest known of another branch living in Sommersall. A third branch of the family lived in Norbury. The earliest found of this branch was Nicholas Abell who died about 1557. Most of the American Abells are descendants of Robert Abell who lived in Stapenhill also in the County of Derby. There is a probability that all the branches of the Abell family in the County of Derby were descendants of a common ancestor.

The pedigree marked  is recorded in official register of the College of Arms, at London, England.

She was the widow of Francis Campbell and daughter of John and Sarah (Taylor) Fox, of Peekskill, N.Y. She died Feb. 16, 1859, at Baltimore.

Rose Campbell, daughter by her first husband, was rescued by Mr. Abell from being run over by a street vehicle, which happily ending incident led to their marriage.

In 1822 Mr. Abell was a printer apprentice with the "Providence Patriot." In 1827 he became foreman of a large printing offices in Boston. Mr. Abell, Mr. Azariah H. Simmons and Mr. William M. Swain together established a penny newspaper, but found in Philadelphia a better field, where they established the "Public Ledger" in 1836. A year later Mr. Abell was delegated by the partnership to supervise a similar venture in Baltimore, and on May 17, 1837, "The Sun" made its first appearance, ~~located then two years the~~ ^{on} ~~the~~ ^{at} ~~"Sun Iron Building,"~~ ^{13, 1837} the first of its kind for printing and publishing purposes. Following the deaths of his partners in 1855 and 1868, Mr. Abell became the sole proprietor of the "Sun," selling his interest in "The Public Ledger" in 1864.

A pony express of sixty exclusively owned horses was organized by Mr. Abell to carry The Sun's war dispatches from Mexico via New Orleans, permitting The Sun to publish the latest news in Baltimore, prior to the U.S. Government's information at Washington. By this express, the first report of the capitulation of Vera Cruz was published by The Sun before the fact was known in Washington, and it was through Mr. Abell that President Polk and his Cabinet were first informed of the capitulation, Apr. 10, 1847. The cost of the express was $1000.00 a month, a tremendous amount for those days. The use of carrier pigeons as a medium of news transmission was employed by Mr. Abell, who established in Baltimore a pigeon loft containing between 400 and 500 carrier pigeons for news service. In order to obtain the latest news from Europe, pony relays were established between Halifax and Annapolis, Nova Scotia, a distance of 150 miles, thence dispatches were relayed by boat and train to Boston and Baltimore, the distance of 1000 miles being covered in fifty hours. ^{Hoe}

He was the first printer to adopt the ~~Rec~~ rotary press and also the telegraph as a news agency, being associated with Prof. Morse in developing the latter, and was an incorporator of the first telegraph company, always keeping in the front by utilizing improved methods. In ~~1873~~ ¹⁸⁷⁸ he transferred the management of "The Sun" to his three sons and celebrated its semi-centennial by receiving them as co-partners. On Aug. 9, 1892 "The Sun" was incorporated as the A. S. Abell Company.

10. EDWIN FRANKLIN ABELL,  born May 15, 1840, at Baltimore; died Feb. 28, 1904 and was buried from the Cathedral; married Margaret Curley, Nov. 25, 1863. She died Feb. 13, 1874; daughter of Henry R. and Margaret (Toy) Curley. He married secondly Elizabeth M. Laurenson, May 26, 1884, daughter of Francis B. and Elizabeth M. (Carroll) Laurenson.

He was educated at the public schools and the Dalrymple Old University School. Entered his father's news paper office at age 16 and was closely identified with the business of "The Sun" until his death, assuming control and direction of policy May 1, 1894. He managed the extensive family estate, and was an expert in real estate matters. It was due to his forethought that when the "Sun Iron Building" was destroyed by the great fire of Feb. 7-8, 1904, "The Sun's" emergency building, which he had erected for just such an emergency, was soon made ready for use. The disaster, however, proved too great a strain and he did not survive to see the new Baltimore arise from the ashes of the old. He was an excellent judge of art and made a fine collection. He was a member of the Athenaeum, the Maryland and the Country Clubs, but his chief relaxation was found in his home circle.

He was educated at Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, Maryland, and at the Georgetown University, Washington, D.C. He entered the publishing business in the office of "The Sun," and when the same was incorporated on Aug. 9, 1892, he was elected a director, and held the office of Secretary and Treasurer from its organization. Like all of his family, he was a devoted member of the Roman Catholic Church, in the schools of which denomination he received his education and to which he entrusted the education of his children. He was devoted to the home which he had established in rural surroundings, his family of seven children receiving the great benefit of his foresight in this respect.

The great fire of Feb. 7-8, 1904, which caused the destruction of the "Sun Iron Building." gave added responsibility to the new president. He supervised the removal of the library, records and files to a place of safety. He secured the use of the Washington Evening Star building and equipment, from which was printed and published without interruption ~~for two months,~~ the regular editions of "The Sun" until the emergency building was made ready in Baltimore, from which the paper was issued until Nov. 17, 1906, when "The Sun" occupied the newly erected building on Charles and Baltimore Streets, the selection of the site and supervision of the erection of which devolved upon Mr. Abell. ~~(Following the completion of this immense undertaking and a well-earned and extensive vacation through the United States and Europe.~~

He was married about 1627, to Elizabeth, only daughter of John Calcott, of Flore, Northampton, gentleman; by his wife Isabell, daughter of Thomas Standish, of Hinton, Northampton, gentleman. Elizabeth Calcott was third cousin to George Wyllys, Gov. of Conn. Colony.

After 1633 this family disappears entirely from the records, or else removed to some place of which the records have not been found. It is not claim that the above Ralph * is the Ralph (1) of Dedham, Mass., but have found no other possible Ralph. This one belonged to a family that had several connections with the new world and whose relatives at Dedham leaned to the Puritanical end of the church. It is possible that on his father's death he removed to the neighborhood of his near kinsmen in Essex, and came over from Dedham in Essex, to Dedham in New England.

1. RALPH FREEMAN, of Dedham, Mass.; married Katharine Lion, Dec, 21, 1652, in Dedham, Mass. She may have been a sister to William Lyon, of Roxbury.

She died Apr. 8, 1742, in Attleborough, the widow of Lieut. Nicholas Ide.

With his brother, Jonathan Freeman, David settled before 1683, in that part of Rehoboth North Purchase that in 1694 formed the new town of Attleborough, David became a prominent man in his town and county, acting as the representative from Attleborough to the General Court, held in Boston, in 1709-10-11-13-15-16-17-18-20 and 1721, and in the latter terms of his office enjoyed the appellation of "Mr" always a term of respect in those days. He served on various civil and ecclesiastical committees and affairs. A man of that name, David Freeman, served in Oct. 1675, as a soldier in King Philip's War, under one Brattle.

In his old age he made his home with his son Ebenezer Freeman, or possibly it was this son who lived with him, at any rate they occupied the same household.

David gave his son, Ebenezer, one half of the home place in 1726 by deed of gift, and also that the former, for a number of years was a vintner and innkeeper at Attleborough.

His will dated June 8, 1730, proved June 19, 1733, mentioned wife Elizabeth; son Ebenezer, appointed executor; daughters, Hannah Pidge and Margaret Short; grandson Jonathan Pidge; witnesses Ebenezer Foster, Jonathan Freeman and Noah Carpenter.

Children, by Margaret Ingraham:

Ebenezer, b. Apr. 13, 1684; living 1746.
 3. Hannah, b. Apr. 24, 1686; m. Josiah Pidge, about 1708, son of John and Elizabeth (Newcomb) Pidge.
 Margaret, b. Feb. 9, 1688; m. Mathew Short.

FULLER

1. ROBERT FULLER, born about 1620, probably in England; died May 10, 1706, in Rehoboth, Mass.; married Sarah ---, who died Feb. 14, 1676, in Rehoboth. She was probably the mother of his children. He married secondly, before July 1637, Margaret (---) Waller, widow of Christopher Waller, of Salem. She died Jan. 30, 1699. He married thirdly, after 1700, Elizabeth ---, who died Sept. 28, 1704, in Rehoboth.

Robert was a bricklayer by trade. Held rights in Rehoboth as early as 1645, and by 1668, when there was actual settlement in that town, we find him owning property there. In 1675, during King Philip's War, the Indians burned the town, and Robert went to Salem, returning to Rehoboth by 1696. It is possible that he came to New England on the ship "Bevis" first settling at Salem, and if so, is identical with that Robert Fuller who testified in the Essex County Court, held in March 1641. As one of the first proprietors of Rehoboth, his name appears on a list of land owners there in 1646, and he shared in grants made from 1661 to 1668. In 1675 he paid a tax on the levy made on the cost of the war, and much earlier, in 1657, became a Freeman of Plymouth Colony.

Had land in Salem, in 1680; served on jury, Nov. 30, 1680; took Freeman's Oath, in 1680; served on Grand Jury, Mar. 1681 (-82) and again on Nov. 28, 1682.

In the division of the Rehoboth North Purchase Lands, made Mar. 18, 1668-9, both Robert Freeman, and his son Jonathan Freeman, had their shares.

Robert left no will and there is no administration of his estate.

Children, probably by Sarah, order uncertain:

2. Jonathan, b. about 1640.
- Elizabeth, b. about 1645; m. prob. Nehemiah Sabin.
- Samuel, b. about 1647; killed by the Indians;
m. Mary Ide, who m. as her second husband John Redeway.
- John, b. about 1649; killed by the Indians;
m. Abigail Titus.
- Abigail, b. about 1653; m. prob. Thomas Cushman.
- Benjamin, b. abt. 1655; m. Mary --- and Judith Smith.

2. JONATHAN FULLER, born about 1640, probably in Salem, Mass.; died Feb. 10, 1708-9, in Attleborough, Mass., aged 69 years, intestate; married Elizabeth Wilmarth, Dec. 14, 1664, in Rehoboth, Mass. She was born Apr. 4, 1647, in Braintree; she survived her husband; daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth Wilmarth.

Jonathan's holdings were in that part of Rehoboth, known as the North Purchase, and which became in 1694, Attleborough. In 1668, he shared as did his father, in a division of that Purchase, and served in the new town as selectman in 1698, was a member of an inquest in 1698, and was on Trial Jury in 1699. It is stated that he received shares in land at Rehoboth from 1661 until 1676 when the town was destroyed by Indians. Three of his sons settled in Connecticut. He undoubtedly saw service in King Philip's War, in which two of his brothers were slain.

Although a rich land owner, Jonathan has but few recorded deeds; there are none in Essex County.

He left no will but an administration was granted upon his estate in Rehoboth, Mass., Apr. 6, 1709.

Children, born in Rehoboth, Mass.:

Jonathan,	b. Dec. 23, 1665; m. Mary Stevens.
David,	b. Sept. 11, 1667; m. Mary Ormsby.
Daniel,	b. Aug. 6, 1669; m. Mary ---, and removed to Windham, Conn., by 1709.
Robert,	b. Mar. 2, 1671; d. July 28, 1671.
Thomas,	b. Mar. 2, 1671; twin of Robert; m. Elizabeth Colby, Ann Woodcock and Mary White.

Nathaniel,	b. May 1, 1675; m. Ann Butterworth.
3. Elizabeth,	b. May 12, 1678; m. John Shepherdson, Apr. 9, 1694, son of Daniel and Elizabeth (Call) Shepherdson.

Mary,	b. Oct. 1, 1682; m. Stephen Cross, and removed to Mansfield, Conn.
Noah,	b. Feb. 12, 1683-4; m. Rachel Pidge, dau. of John Pidge.

HOPKINS

1. STEPHEN HOPKINS, born 1583, in Coventry, England; died in 1644, in Plymouth, Mass.; married Constance Dudley, in Coventry, England, before 1605. He married secondly, Elizabeth Fusher, in 1617, probably in Leyden, Holland. She died after 1640.

Stephen went from England to Holland, before 1613. He came in the "Mayflower," 1620, to Plymouth, Mass., with second wife and two children of first wife, Giles and Constance. 14th. signer of the Mayflower Compact.

Stephen was an assistant, 1633 to 1636; volunteer in Pequot War, 1637; 1638, liberty was granted him to erect house at Mattacheese; 1642-4, member Council of War.

He died between June 6, 1644 date of his will and July 17, 1644, the date of the inventory.

INGRAHAM

1. JARRETT INGRAHAM, perhaps son of Richard Ingraham, was born probably in England, about 1635; died Jan. 11, 1717-8, in Rehoboth, Mass., testate; married Rebecca Searle, May 28, 1662, in Boston, Mass., ceremony performed by Gov. John Endicott. She was born about 1642, probably in Weymouth, Mass.; buried May 16, 1691, in Rehoboth, Mass.; daughter of Edward Searle. He married secondly, Apr. 22, 1692, Waitstill (-----) Sabin, widow of Joseph Sabin. She died in Rehoboth, Mass., Nov. 5, 1718.

In 1645, there was a Richard Ingraham who was a proprietor of Rehoboth but find no other record of him. As an Elizabeth Ingraham married in 1647, Richard Bullock, and a Joanna Ingraham married in 1651, George Robinson, both marriages being in Rehoboth, it seems probable that they were also children of this early Richard.

This first record of Jarrett is his marriage in Boston in 1662. He then removed to Rehoboth by 1665, and was of Swanzey in 1672, later returning to Rehoboth. In March 1669, we find his signature in a list of those men who signed an agreement regarding the church at Swanzey.

In 1668, Jarrett was granted a share in the Rehoboth North Purchase, and later shared in the division of that land with the Fullers and others, this being 1668-1669. His earliest deed in Bristol County was made in 1703.

His will dated Apr. 16, 1714, proved Feb. 3, 1717-18. Mentioned sons John, Joseph, Benjamin, Jeremiah, and Obadiah; daughters Margaret Freeman, Rebeckah Robinson and Hannah Larrence; wife Waitstill; son Obadiah appointed Excutor wife Waitstill executrix; witnesses: Abiah Carpenter, John Lynn and Daniel Smith.

NEWCOMB

1. FRANCIS NEWCOMB, born in England, about 1605; died May 27, 1692, in Braintree, Mass.; married Rachel -----, about 1632. She was born in 1615; died after 1658.

In April 1635, among those who "imbarqued in the Planter" from the port of London, were: "Husb" Francis Newcom 30, Rachell Newcom 20, Rachell Newcom 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ and Jo: Newcom 9 moneths".

They arrived at Boston and soon removed to Braintree, where Francis acted as a witness to deeds in 1645, 1670 and 1673.

He does not appear as a grantor or a grantee in the land records and left no will, nor is any settlement of his estate of record. It is a tradition that he was "upwards of 100 years old", at his decease, but Dr. Savage in his "Genealogical Dictionary" estimates his age in 1692 as but 87 years.

In 1691, Elizabeth Pidge, widow of John Pidge, had, in regard to the bond of administration in her husband's estate, one John Newcomb as a surety; she also named a daughter, Rachel.

Rachel, wife of Francis Newcomb, joined the church in Boston, Dec. 28, 1635; in 1639, Francis was dismissed from this church to the First Church of Braintree.

Children, first two born in England, rest in Braintree:

2. Elizabeth,	b. Aug. 26, 1658; m. John Pidge, July 3, 1677, son of Thomas and Mary Pidge.

P I D G E

1. THOMAS PIDGE, born probably in England; died Dec. 30, 1643, in Roxbury, Mass.; married Mary ~~*~~, who died in Roxbury. She married secondly, Michael Metcalf, of Dedham, Aug. 13, 1645.

Thomas Pidge brought his wife Mary and several children with him from England and on May 14, 1634 became a Freeman in Roxbury of the Bay Colony. We see from his will that he held land in both Roxbury and Dedham.

The following notes are from the Church Records of the Rev. John Eliot of Roxbury, the Apostle to the Indians: "Mary Pigge the wife of Thomas Pigge" both listed as church members. "M 11, day 15, Jakob Pigg received to full Comunion" (1662, Jan. 15). Baptisms, 1642, "Month 10 day 25 Mary Wood twins: daughters of Sarah Wood of the Church of Braintree who maryed or bro Pigs daughter and she lying in childbed in this towne". Baptisms, 1643, "Month 1 day 12 Martha Pig the daughter of Thomas Pig" (Mar. 12, 1643). Deaths, 1643, "Month 10 day 30 Thomas Pig dyed of a dropsy a godly Christian man. He had a fall & a bruise on his back wh hurt his kidnoys & not carefully cured they utterly wasted away & many othr of his intral".

His will was proved Sept. 12, 1644.

Children, order uncertain:

Thomas, prob. eldest son, died without issue, Sep. 8, 1660, administration granted his brother, John.

Hannah,

Sarah,

Mary, m. Nicholas Wood ?

2. John, b. about 1640.

Martha, b. Mar. 12, 1642-43, Roxbury; m. in 1659, Benjamin Bullard, of Dedham.

2. JOHN PIDGE, born probably in Roxbury, about 1640; died before June 11, 1691, in Dedham, Mass.; married Mary Farrington, Apr. 27, 1667, in Dedham, Mass. She was born Mar. 26, 1651, in Dedham; died Apr. 22, 1676, in Dedham; daughter of John and Mary (Bullard) Farrington. He married secondly, Elizabeth Newcomb, July 3, 1677. She was born Aug. 26, 1658, in Braintree, Mass.; daughter of Francis and Rachel Newcomb. She married for her second husband, Dec. 28, 1695, in Dedham, Mass., James Emery, "of Berwick in Kittery", and later removed with him to Maine.

When Thomas Pidge died, evidently without issue, his brother, John, was appointed administrator of the estate, Oct. 30, 1660, so was at that time of legal age. "Administration to the estate of the late Thomas pigge of Dedham lately Deceased is Granted to John pigge his Brother in behalf of himself & Sisters".

There are no land records in his name, although a number of deeds were passed in settlement of his estate by his children after his death, these are noted in his son, Josiah's account.

In 1690, he became a Freeman at Dedham

John Pidge died intestate and an administration was granted on his estate June 11, 1691 to "Elizabeth Pidgg" who served with Thomas Motcalf; Samuel Guile and John Newcomb serving as her bondsmen, all but the latter were of Dedham but Newcomb was of Braintree.

Children, by Mary Farrington:

Mary, b. about 1668; m. by 1701 --- Keney.

John, b. Aug. 16, 1670; d. young.

Children, by Elizabeth Newcomb:

Jonathan, b. Apr. 4, 1678; alive in 1701.

Elizabeth, b. Apr. 6, 1680; m. Jeremiah Ingraham.

3. Josiah, b. Dec. 11, 1683.

Hannah, b. Nov. 22, 1686; alive in 1701.

Rachel, b. about 1689; living 1701; m. Noah Fuller.

3. JOSIAH PIDGE, born Dec. 11, 1683, in Dedham, Mass.; died Feb. 18, 1729-30, in Attleborough, Mass., aged 46 years, intestate; married Hannah Freeman, about 1708. She was born Apr. 24, 1686, in Rehoboth, Mass., daughter of David and Margaret (Ingraham) Freeman. She survived her husband.

In his record of death as printed in the Attleborough Vital Records, he is called "Ensign" Josiah Pidge, and doubtless belonged to the local train band or militia.

Although he sold his Dedham property in 1710 he does not appear in the Bristol County land records until 1724, when he sold land in Attleborough. It is apparent that he did not trouble to record all his deeds, and we have no proof of how he obtained the latter holding.

He left no will, but administration was granted on his estate, Mar. 30, 1730, when Hannah Pidge, widow, with Jeremiah Freeman of Attleborough, and Ephraim Lane of Norton, as her sureties, was appointed the administratrix to the estate of Josiah Pidge late of said Attleborough deceased, she, the widow, being of that town.

A petition signed by the widow and John Pidge late son of the deceased sought a division. This was made, May 2, 1732, as follows: To the widow Hannah, part of the house and farm; To John Pidge a double share "he Being the Eldest son" and the west end of the house with certain land; To "Margret Sheposons part in the Real is as followeth The West side of the last lot Described," etc.; Hannah Pidge Junior's share; Elizabeth Pidge's share; and Jonathan Pidge's share.

After his death various deeds were passed in final settlement of the estate, and under the Shephordson account, three of these: Nov. 24, 1733, when Amos and Margaret Shephordson of Attleborough for £ 70 sold their portion of land in their father Josiah Pidge's estate to their brother, John Pidge; May 19, 1756, Thomas Bowen, Jr., and wife Elizabeth of Rehoboth conveyed to Amos Shephordson their one sixth right in the estate of said Josiah Pidge; and Sept. 27, 1762, when Amos and Margaret Shephordson of Attleborough conveyed to Joseph Bradford their two sixth rights in said estate.

Futher deeds were passed by the other heirs whereby the lands were sold out to the eldest son, John.

Children, all but John and Timothy, recorded in Attleborough, Mass.:

John, b. Aug. 26, 1709, in Dedham; m. Rachel Bucklin, of Rehoboth, in 1730.
4. Margaret, b. June 15, 1712, in Attleborough; m. Mar.
30, 1732, Amos Shepherdson, son of John Shepherdson.

REDEWAY

1910001

1. JAMES REDEWAY, buried at Rehoboth, Mass., Mar. 31, 1684.
The first that is known of him was when he appeared as a Proprietor of Rehoboth, Mass., in 1643, and gave in the value of his estate as £121:00:00. His was number 13, "Ralph Shepard's, now James Redewaye."

On May 13 (3) 1653, he with Richard Bowen, was overseer of the ways. On June 23, 1653, he was one of the 41 signers of the petition empowering Richard Bowen, Stephen Paine, Thomas Cooper and William Sabin to represent Rehoboth in settling land differences with Capt. Miles Stanish, Capt. Thomas Willett and Josias Winslow.

James "Redwaile" drew lot 23 for the new meadow Feb.
18 (12) 1646, "only these were under £ 150 estate to be made up 150"; he drew lot 5 for "meadow that lie of the north side of the town", June 22, 1658 and May 26, 1668 he drew meadow lands in the North Purchase.

During King Philip's War, James Redeway advanced money to assist in carrying on the war. His oldest son John served in the Narragansett Expedition, and his other son James advanced money for the support of the war, and served under Major Bradford and was probably killed by the Indians. His daughter Martha married Preserved Abell, who advanced money for the support of the war, and also served under Major Bradford, and later was a Lieutenant and served in Sir William Phillips' Expedition against Canada. His daughter Lydia married John Titus, Jr., who advanced money for the support of the war, and undoubtedly fought in it.

SEARLE

1. EDWARD SEARLE, an early settler of Weymouth and Rehoboth, both in Massachusetts, died in the former town, prior to Oct. 6, 1692. The name of his wife is unknown, her given name may possibly have been Margaret. She died in Rehoboth, Mass., July 13, 1664.

An inhabitant of Weymouth in 1640, but soon removed to Rehoboth. He became a Freeman in Weymouth as early as Nov. 2, 1637. He was a Proprietor of Rehoboth in 1643-1644, later returning to Weymouth. As did Robert Fuller, Edward had grants of land at Rehoboth in 1646. It is probable that when the Indians destroyed Rehoboth during King Philip's war and the inhabitants were forced to flee that it was then that Searle went back to Weymouth.

He died intestate and an administration was granted Apr. 13, 1693.

SEARS

1. RICHARD SEARS, born in 1590; buried Aug. 26, 1676, aged 86, at Yarmouth, Mass.; married in 1632, Dorothy Jones. She was born in England, a sister of Richard Jones and of Elizabeth Jones, wife of Anthony Thacher. She died in Mar. 1679, buried Mar. 19, 1678-9, in Yarmouth. It is not certain that she was his only wife or the mother of all, if any, of his children.

"the Pilgrim" who driven by persecution from his native land sought refuge among the Pilgrims in Holland, came to this country, landed at Plymouth, Mass., in 1630.

His name appears on tax list at Plymouth, Mar. 25, 1633. He was in Marblehead, Mass., from Salem tax list, Jan. 1, 1637-8, and on Oct. 14, 1638, he was granted three acres of land "where he had formerly planted". Richard removed to Yarmouth, in 1639, with the party led by Anthony Thacher, Deputy of Plymouth Colony 1662.

SHEPHERDSON

1. DANIEL SHEPHERDSON, born about 1615, probably in England; died July 26, 1644, in Charlestown, Mass., in that part now Malden, testate; married Joanna ----- . She married secondly, after July 1646, as his second wife, Thomas Call, Sr. She died in Malden, Jan. 30, 1660-61.

He is said to have come to Charlestown from Salem, but was in the former place very early as he was admitted to the First Church there, June 8, 1633. By trade a blacksmith, he directed that his son also be trained for that calling, and died so early that little material is available concerning him.

According to Wyman's "History of Charlestown", his possessions were listed in 1638 and then consisted of seven lots of land, first, his house; second, five rods at Eastfield; third, one acre at Highfield mead; fourth, one and three quarter commons; fifth, five acres at Linifield; sixth, ten acres of wood at mystic flat; seventh, twenty five acres at Waterfield.

By the terms of his will, dated July 16, 1644, proved May 26, 1647, inventory filed May 25, 1647, he devised to his wife during her life, and afterwards to his son, Daniel, the house and three-acre homelot; the rest to his daughters; and appointed Heborne and Cutter to act as the overseers; but if his wife and children all died, the house was to go to Increase Nowell. A court order on the will dated May 26, 1647, at Suffolk County cites:

"If his wife and 3 children dyed hee gave mee Incr: Nowell his house plot at the same time before the Same witnesses."

In 1646, various persons living in Charlestown sold Henry Dunster, the President of Harvard College, certain lands and among them, "I Joanna Shepherson" sold five acres to the same and signed by mark.

It has been stated that besides the son and two daughters named in the will there were two others who died in infancy before 1644, named Amos and Ruth, but no proof exists of this assertion.

Children, all baptised in Charlestown, Mass.:

- Lydia, bapt. July 24, 1637; m. Thomas Call, Jr.,
July 22, 1657; m2nd. Thomas Skinner.
2. Daniel, bapt. June 14, 1641.
Johanna, bapt. Mar. 13, 1642; m. Nov. 1661, Thomas Kennebec and removed to Swansey.

2. DANIEL SHEPHERDSON, baptised in Charlestown, Mass., June 14, 1641; died in Attleborough, Aug. 3, 1723, "ye aged." He married Elizabeth (Call) Tingley, Apr. 11, 1668, in Malden. She was baptised in Charlestown, Feb. 21, 1640-1; died in Attleborough, Feb. 21, 1715-6; the widow of Samuel Tingley, and the daughter of Thomas and Bennett Call.

Samuel Tingley, son of Palmer and Ann (Fosdick) Tingley, supposedly, was born prior to 1642 and died in Malden, Dec. 28, 1665. By this marriage in Charlestown, Sept. 20, 1663, to Elizabeth Call, there were two children, viz: Samuel Tingley, born in Feb. 1665-1666; and Thomas Tingley, born in July 1667, both births taking place in Malden. These two children were raised in the Shepherdson family and were the founders of the Bristol County branch of the Tingleys.

Daniel's father provided in his will that his little son be taught the trade of a "smythe" which was accordingly done, and Daniel, Jr., followed this calling. He became a Freeman of the Colony of Malden, May 29, 1674, and took the oath of fidelity there, Dec. 15, 1674. Soon after he removed to the Plymouth Colony.

In 1671, part of the lands of the North Purchase in that Colony was granted to the old town of Rehoboth. Later, in 1694, part of this North Purchase in Rehoboth was established to form the new town of Attleborough, and in the interim, in 1686, Bristol County was formed from a part of the old Plymouth Colony, the rest of that colony being separated into the present Plymouth and Barnstable Counties.

It is evident that Daniel held land that eventually became part of Attleborough, that he certainly was in Rehoboth by 1682, and that he had a fifty-acre grant about half a mile on the Bay Road from the "old Town,"

He was a selectman in Attleborough in 1698, and lived to old age, being called "old Goodman Daniel Shepardson." The town records indicate that at one time he nearly lost all his property.

His last deed was effected in 1720, his first in 1662. He left no will and there is no record of any administration being granted upon his estate.

It is evident that by 1688, Daniel had changed his trade to that of a tailor.

Children, last five possibly born in Rehoboth, Mass.:

- Daniel, b. July 11, 1669, in Charlestown; d. in service, Mar. 11, 1691, as a Lieut. under Phip's in the Expedition to Canada.
3. John bapt. Jan. 1671.
- Elizabeth, b. about 1674; m. Robert Fuller, Jan. 19, 1698-9, son of Jonathan Fuller.
- Mary, b. about 1676; m. Joseph Ingraham, Apr. 11, 1700.
- Joanna, b. about 1678; m. John Fuller, Dec. 28, 1701.
- Nathaniel, bapt. Oct. 28, 1680, Rehoboth; m. Mary --.
- Jonathan, b. July 22, 1685; d. Oct. 15, 1685, Reh.

3. JOHN SHEPHERDSON, baptised Jan. 1671, in Malden, Mass.; died before Dec. 3, 1708, in Attleborough, Mass.; married Elizabeth Fuller, Apr. 9, 1694, in Attleborough. She was born May 12, 1678, baptised May 30, 1679, in Attleborough; died in Attleborough, after 1711; daughter of Jonathan and Elizabeth (Wilmarth) Fuller.

In 1699, John received from his father by deed of gift some thirty acres of land lying on both sides of Seven Mile River in Attleborough. There are no other deeds in his name, although a number were passed after his children became of age. His father died in 1723, fifteen years at least after his own decease and the father's holdings had to be divided as John was the only son to marry and leave issue. It is quite possible that the widow remarried.

John left no will but the inventory of his property was filed in the Probate Court, Dec. 3, 1708, the widow taking oath to its veracity. Jan. 5, 1708-9, "Elizabeth Sheperson widow & Relict of John Sheperson late of Attleboro... Deceased" with "Jonathan ffuler Senr and Jonathan ffuler Junr of Attleboro," as her sureties, was appointed the administratrix to her late husband's estate. All sign this bond.

He evidently possessed some education as books were included in the list of personal items in the inventory. An accounting was presented by the widow, May 16, 1711, she being still unmarried then.

Children, born in Attleborough, Mass.:

Ruth, b. July 14, 1695; m. in 1716-7, Ephraim Lane.

Mehetable, b. Jan. 31, 1696-7; d. young.

Sarah, b. Feb. 13, 1698-9; d. Apr. 28, 1699.

Daniel, b. Mar. 16, 1699-1700; m. Hannah Richardson and Mary Washburn.

4. Amos, b. Sept. 30, 1704.

John, bapt. Apr. 17, 1709, (prob. b. about 1706?); m. Abigail Richardson.

4. AMOS SHEPHERDSON, born Sept. 30, 1704, in Attleborough, Mass.; died about 1795, in Attleborough; married Mar. 30, 1732, Margaret Pidge, in Attleborough. She was born June 15, 1712, in Attleborough; living in 1796; daughter of Josiah and Hannah (Freeman) Pidge.

It has been stated that his wife was an Elizabeth Tiffany by whom he had issue, but nothing is found to substantiate this idea. The will of James Tiffany, dated June 28 and proved July 18, 1732, mentions his daughter Elizabeth thus: "item I give unto my daughter Elizabeths Children the sum of five pound six shillings and eight pence."

Josiah Pidge left no will but an administration was granted his widow, Mar. 30, 1730, and a final division effected May 2, 1732, which mentions "Margret Sheper-sons part."

As Margaret (Pidge) Shepherdson was under legal age at this time we have this interesting bond of guardianship: Amos Shepardson as principal, with John Pidge and Caleb Hall of Attleborough as his bondsmen, was appointed the guardian to "Margaret Shepperdson a Minor above the age of fourteen years Daughter of Josiah Pidge late of Attleborough...Deceased." All three sign this bond.

Amos had service in the French and Indian War (1755-1760), which ended by the formal treaty at Paris in 1763. He was a member of the Second Company of Attleborough under Captain Joseph Capron and his name appears on an alarm list there, dated Apr. 8, 1757.

In 1726, he was of Norton, being by trade a bloomer or iron worker, and in that year receipted to his brother for his share in his father's estate. This is the only instance when he is designated as of Norton, and it is probable he was only working there in the Iron Works.

His will was dated Aug. 10, 1791, proved Dec. 1, 1795; hence his death took place between these dates

Children, born in Attleborough, Mass.:

- Amos, b. May 5, 1735; said to have died in New York State, after 1820; m. Abigail Pratt, Aug. 14, 1755, in Norton.

- Elijah, b. May 8, 1741; d. 1787; m. Mary ----.

- Olive, b. June 30, 1752; m. John Macomber, 1777.
- Araunah, b. Aug. 17, 1756, lost at sea.
- William, possibly, a sea captain, who was wrecked between Liverpool and Boston was another child.

5. ZEBEDIAH SHEPHERDSON, born Nov. 17, 1737, in Attleborough, Mass.; died at Seekonk, Mass.; married Deborah Cooke, Aug. 7, 1762, intentions published in Norton, Mass. She was the daughter of Silas and Elizabeth (Stetson) Cooke.

He is called "Captain" in record of his death in Rehoboth, Mass., May 12, 1810. He was commissioned as commander of the schooner "Resolution" a privateer, July 20, 1778. Zebulon Shepherdson, First Lieut. on same vessel, may have been his son.

The Court decided that Zebadiah Shepardson of Rehoboth should act as the guardian to Mehetable, Lydia, and Elijah Shepardson, minor children of Elijah Shepardson, late deceased, and grandchildren of Amos Shepardson late of Attleborough deceased, who had left them property. Hence he had a legal right to sell off their one fifth share in their grandfather's estate for their benefit. Therefore, June 30, 1796, David Perry of Rehoboth by an order of the Supreme Judicial Court at Boston made a sale of one fifty of the undivided estate of Amos Shepardson deceased to the highest bidder, he being one Joseph Foster, Jr. of Attle.

No record of children except two daughters named in will.

and Mary (Thompson) Abell.

STETSON

1. ROBERT STETSON, born about 1613; died Feb. 1, 1703; married first Honor ----; married secondly, Mary Hillard, widow of John Bryant.

It is said he came from County Kent, England, perhaps in 1633. He was a man of great public spirit.

He settled in Scituate in the year 1634, at which time he received from the Colony Court a grant of a considerable tract of land, on the North River, which constituted his farm. Name among those able to bear arms in Scituate, in the year 1643, and in the year 1652 he became a Freeman.

In 1656, he erected a saw mill on what was then called the "third Herring brook," which was burnt by the Indians in 1676.

Robert was Cornet of the first Horse Company raised in Plymouth Colony, Mass., in the year 1658 or 1659.

Commissioner for settling bounds between the Colonies of Massachusetts and Plymouth; in perilous time, of the council of war before and after the great dangers of Philip's hostility during which his service was active.

Press Master in 1675. He was Deputy to the General Court 1654 to 1662, 1666, 1667, 1669, 1670, 1671, 1673, 1674, 1677 and 1678.

In 1661, Robert was chosen a member of the Council of War.

SUTTON

1. JOHN SUTTON, came from Attleborough, in Norfolkshire, England, arriving in the "Delegent," 1638, with his wife, Julien and a son John and three other children

He settled near Hingham, Mass., where he received a grant of land. He removed to Rehoboth, Mass., five years later, in 1643, and left his Hingham property to his son John.

He is noted a resident of Rehoboth in various accounts of the town in 1644, 1645, 1653 and 1658, and died there June 1, 1672, a letter of administration for his estate being issued to his widow, Julianna Sutton, who died in 1678, and was buried on the 4th. of June.

Children:

- John, m. in 1661, Elizabeth House, dau. of Samuel House. John removed to Scituate before 1653.

- Anne, m. John Daggett, Sept. 23, 1651, in Reh.
- Margaret, m. Joseph Carpenter, Nov. or May 25, 1655, in Rehoboth, son of William Carpenter.

WILLIAMS

1. JOHN WILLIAMS, of Scituate, Mass. Came probably with Mr. Hatherly from London, 1632, brought son John, Edward and daughter Ann, perhaps also, younger daughter Mary, and wife Ann.

Took up a farm on the north side of Scituate Harbour, very early. In 1656, he was one of the Conihasset partners, when his farm was included in Mr. Hatherly's 400 acres, which he accepted as his quarter of the purchase. The house was erected by John Williams as early as 1634.

By his will of Dec. 10, 1667, he names three, and permits us to infer, in connection with collateral knowledge, that Anthony Dodson, who married in 1651 Mary, was then daughter, that Ann had been in 1632, wife of John Barker, was then wife of John Pratt, and that she, by the former husband had Deborah, then wife of William Burden and John, Abraham and Mary. Barker.

Children:

- John, b. in Eng.
- Ann, oldest, m. John Barker; m2nd. John Pratt.
- Edward, Householder in 1647; d. in 1671.
2. Mary, m. Anthony Dodson, Nov. 12, 1651.

WILMARTH

1. THOMAS WILMARTH, an early settler of Rehoboth, Mass. He died May 3, 1694, in Rehoboth, Mass.; married for his first wife, Elizabeth ----, and the mother of his children. She was buried 1676, in Rehoboth, Mass. He married secondly, Jan. 27, 1678, Rachel Read, widow of John Read. She died Nov. 12, 1710, in Rehoboth. It has been suggested that his second wife was born a Bliss but have seen no proof of this assertion.

Evidently Thomas first settled in Braintree, where in 1645 he acted as a witness to a deed, and where his daughter was born two years later; from there he removed to Rehoboth. Some state he was of Rehoboth by 1645, but it is certain he was there by 1658, when as "Wilmoth" he had a town grant. Again in 1668, as "Willmot" he shared in a land division there.

On May 14, 1673, "Thomas Willmarth" became a Freeman of Plymouth Colony. Ensign Wilmarth had two shares in the land that was destined to become Attleborough, one a grant, and the other a purchase of Joseph Carpenter.

John Read of Rehoboth was an Innkeeper by 1649, and a proprietor there from 1650. He served as town officer, etc., and the administration on his estate was granted to the widow Rachel, and son, Thomas, June 7, 1676.

His will was dated Dec. 10, 1678, proved May 28, 1694, mentioned wife Rachell; daughters Elizabeth and Mary; sons Thomas, John and Jonathan, all appointed executors; witnesses Daniel Smith and Joshua Smith. The inventory of the estate was taken May 26, 1694, being attested to by the widow, "Rachell Willmouth."

Children, by Elizabeth, order uncertain:

- | | |
|---------------|---|
| 2. Elizabeth, | b. Apr. 4, 1647, in Braintree; m. Dec. 14, 1664, Jonathan Fuller, son of Robert and Sarah Fuller. |

Note: The material on the Call, Freeman, Fuller, Ingraham, Newcomb, Searle and Wilmarth lineages is partly based on the researches of Winifred Lovering Holman, S.B., of Watertown, Mass.
